

LOCAL LINES.

A Grand Array of Interesting News.

GOVERNOR WEST

Visits the Junction City and Gives a

GRAND RECEPTION

At the Parlors of the Broom Hotel.

POLICE COURT VERY QUIET.

Entertainments Still Continue to Come—
Banaways—Hymeneal—Other Items.

GOVERNOR WEST'S VISIT.

The Trustees' Visit of Inspection—The Grand Reception.

As had been previously announced the trustees of the proposed Reform School were expected to arrive in the Junction City yesterday for the purpose of selecting a suitable location for the building. Accordingly a committee consisting of Mayor David Eccles, Judge L. W. Shurtliff and Hon's. C. C. Richards and Joseph Stanford met the morning train from Salt Lake City at the depot, with carriages for the conveyance of the party.

On board were His Excellency Caleb W. West; Secretary W. O. Hall, Hons. James H. Moyle, of Salt Lake City and Joseph Barton, of Kaysville, Hon. R. H. Jones came down from Brigham on the U. & N.

Greetings were exchanged and the party then proceeded to the Chamber of Commerce rooms where they were met by Judge P. H. Emerson, A. H. Nelson and Z. Ballantyne.

PROCEEDINGS AT THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

All the members of the Board were present except Hon. S. R. Thurman, who was unavoidably detained at Provo on court business. On motion of Hon. C. C. Richards, His Excellency the Governor was elected president of the trustees. The election of vice-president, secretary and treasurer was deferred until some future day.

INSPECTING LOCATIONS.

The party then entered the carriages provided for their use and proceeded to the various places offered as locations for the school by the City as well as by private parties.

The first place visited was a tract of 40 acres owned by the City, upon which the post house is at present situated.

Herrick's farm was next taken into consideration. Passing over the land owned by A. H. Cannon, the party reached the Stowell farm, where some time was spent in viewing the location of the land and inspecting the good water facilities to be obtained should the school be placed there. The fresh air and invigorating breeze under the foot of the majestic Wasatch Mountains had a tendency to wonderfully sharpen the appetites of the party and as several members began expressing themselves to that effect they all decided to return to the city for lunch.

LUNCH AT THE BROOM.

Judge Gibbons at the Broom was well prepared to receive his illustrious guests and did himself great credit in the repast prepared. Dinner over, a chat in the Broom parlors, and the party was again ready for the march. The driving park grounds was the first object of their inspection. From there the party went northward through the settlements lining the highway, visiting the many beautiful locations and familiarizing themselves with the boundless resources found in that part of the county. Surely, the trustees has a variety of sites from which to choose, many of them possessing every facility and convenience necessary to meet the requirements needed.

Having seen all they desired the party returned to the Broom Hotel where they partook of a bounteous supper, thus preparing themselves for what was to follow.

THE GOVERNOR'S SPEECH.

At 8 o'clock p. m. the Governor, accompanied by Judge Shurtliff, Hons. C. C. Richards and Joseph Barton and two or three other gentlemen, stepped out upon the balcony. He was introduced to the expectant assembly below by Judge L. W. Shurtliff. He then proceeded to address the populace which had gathered to see His Excellency, who had not visited Ogden in an official capacity for two years.

He heartily and earnestly thanked the people of Ogden for the welcome extended to him. He said he well remembered his reception of two years ago when he came among this people a comparative stranger. The welcome extended had been and was sincere and one that with him caused feelings of deep appreciation that would long be remembered. He had been here several times since then but not in an official capacity. Now he came for a purpose that created a great deal of interest, the labors of which when consummated would prove a lasting benefit to the Territory. The Legislative Assembly which had but recently adjourned had labored hard and many laws had been passed which he felt satisfied would result in good to this Territory. They were wholesome and tending to elevate the standing of the Territory among other states and territories. Having been assigned a position of trust, and been elected chairman of the board of trustees of the Reform School to be built in Weber County, he had, in company with the other members of the board, visited the various locations tendered as sites for the school. He said that the choice on the part of the trustees would be an honest one, and hoped that it might prove to the best interests of the Territory and community as well as to this important Territorial Institute.

He again expressed his pleasure and appreciation of the earnest and open, frank and sincere welcome greeting him upon his visit to Ogden.

THE RECEPTION.

After the Governor had retired, Judge L. W. Shurtliff announced that all who desired to see His Excellency and shake hands with would now have the opportunity so. The large assembly which attentively listened to the Governor's speech and repeatedly applauded and cheered him, now filed up the tranche on the east side of the and one by one were introduced to visitors in the large parlor. Hand-shaking which took place not have been quite as fatiguing that of President Cleveland who his last pleasure tour, as His Excellency was afterwards found inquiring if he had seen all, if there were more of the good citizens of Ogden who desired to feel his grip. Judge Emerson and Hon. C. C. Richards assisted alternately in the introduction of the visitors to the Governor, Judge L. W. Shurtliff officiated at similar ceremonies with Secretary C. Hall. Next followed Hons. Joseph Barton, James Moyle and R. H. Jones. The hand-shaking over with, the was at once announced, and the gentlemen and fair ladies were soon gaged in the magic dance, guided by the excellent music rendered by Ford's orchestra and the prompt of Wilford Hinchcliff. Conspicuous among them all, and the one who attracted the most attention, was the genial Executive, who moved around in the dance with a countenance that seemed to say, "I have cast the lot of state to one side for a short season and now is my time of enjoyment." Everything was gay and pleasant, a feeling of the utmost harmony and filiation of sentiment prevailed unmarred by any difference of opinion, either political, commercially or religiously. The guests were bound to enjoy themselves and did it in the most effectual manner. The reception was a grand success in every respect, and one long to be remembered.

Among the most noted of the present were, as a matter of course, the board of trustees, Hon. N. Montgomery, member of the House of Representatives, Mayor Eccles, Aldermen Dee and Watson, Councillors Boyle and Jackson, Commissioners L. R. Rogers, V. M. O. Silva, Joseph Stanford, Judge R. K. Williams, James Horrocks, George H. Tribe, James Wotherspoon, George Driver, W. H. Wrightson, Parley T., H. S. Young, A. Nelson, John Scowcroft, T. J. Steves, Z. Ballantyne, O. Schramm, D. Peery, Jr., Dr. J. L. Hetzler, H. Rolapp, S. M. Preshaw, S. A. Keane and Bluth, Smurthwaite and Daniels, representatives of the press and a number of others. Many of the gentlemen were accompanied by their wives and other ladies.

The location to be decided upon will be considered to-day. The members of the board were very reticent in pressing their views as to the proper site. The board is but partially organized as yet, but a full organization will probably take place to-day.