LOCAL BRIEFS

Rabbit Hunt Next Friday—The date of the second big rabbit hunt of the season has been fixed for next Friday. The party will leave Ogden at 6:30 on the morning of that day and expect to return about 7 o'clock at night. From present indications at least 200 sportsmen will participate. Chief of Police Norton will make a trip over the territory to be hunted tomorrow and make arrangements for teams to carry the party from the railroad to the grounds. The tickets will cost $2 each and are being sold by a committee of a dozen men. The rabbits will be given to the poor of the county, distribution being made by the Salvation Army, the police and county officials.

Will Give Banquet—At the banquet of the Ministerial association Monday evening, January 20, J. R. Cooper will speak on "The Pulpit from the Pew." Rev. H. D. Zimmerman will reverse the subject and speak on "The Pew from the Pulpit." In his discourse, Mr. Cooper will cite the obligations that rest on the ministers, and Rev. Zimmerman will tell why so few ministers ride around in automobiles and are so infrequent on joy-rides of luxuries.

Child's New Member—Mr. and Mrs. William Greenwell, 2045 Harrison avenue, are the parents of an eight-pound son, born yesterday morning. Mr. Greenwell is tenor singer in the Tabernacle choir.

Granted Petition—Judge Howell has granted the petition for the sale of certain property in the estate of Timothy O'Neill. The probable value is placed at $2,250. The sale will be private.

Soldiers in Ogden—Two companies of soldiers from the Jefferson barracks, Missouri, passed through Ogden yesterday on their way to Seattle, Wash. The soldiers arrived on the Rio Grande and continued to their destination over the Oregon Short Line.

Call up No. 345 to order some of that new, clean Mammoth Lump Coal, $5 per ton, delivered.—Adv. 12-25-12

A Ten-Pound Boy—A ten-pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. David Barker, 1075 Twenty-fourth street, Thursday.

Examining Employees—The employees of the Oregon Short Line and the Southern Pacific are being examined by P. A. Latta of the former road, and A. J. Nichols of the Southern Pacific. The examination includes all men who take part in the movement of trains.

Sheep Doing Well—The sheep in Juab county are wintering well and have plenty of range according to George B. Hickey, who has just returned from his sheep camps in that county. The snow is eighteen inches deep in that part of the state.

Waking Treatment—Antone Mellon of Wendover, Nev., is taking treatment at the Deo hospital.

Returns Home—Miss F. Champion, who has been a patient at the Deo hospital for more than a month, left that institution yesterday.

Wanted—Large, clean, soft rags, at this office.—Advertisement.

Work on Gas Holder—The steel work on the gas holder of the Utah Light and Railway company will be started in a few days. J. J. Burke & Co. have the contract for building the holder, but it is expected that Hoy Shedy, steel construction contractor, will assist in the construction work.

Notary Public—The secretary of state has granted commissions to the following notary publics: George J. Kelly, J. M. Hanson, E. A. Stratford and G. J. E. Abels.

Continued One Week—After having been called for hearing yesterday morning in Judge Harris' division of the district court, the case of Orlando Mallock against Steven Wingers et al. was continued. The suit was instituted to recover $400 for rent, hay and pasture.

Dr. Houck Not Visitor—Charles Manzel is authority for the statement that Dr. Otto William Houck, the man whose name has been connected with that of Mrs. Eliza J. Storer of Ogden, did not visit the latter at Mr. Manzel's residence. Mr. Manzel has no later information concerning the alleged marriage of his mother-in-law and the doctor who was accused of victimizing women all over the country.

Seventh West street, Salt Lake. He gave his occupation as that of a blacksmith. He had $28.80 and a return ticket to Salt Lake on the Hamberger road in his pocket. He turned $22 of the money over to Mikessell and requested him to go to Salt Lake and consult a lawyer for him.

As Sanbourne was led to his cell, his brother-in-law said: "I am sorry that it happened."

"Yes, it's too bad," returned the prisoner.

The gun taken from Sanbourne is a small blue-barreled .32-caliber revolver with five chambers. It was found that only one barrel had been fired.

RESIDENTS HIDE DISEASE; SHORTEN

Sanitary Inspector Believes the Presence of Contagious Diseases is Kept From Him.

Regardless of the fact that there are fourteen cases of measles reported to the health officer, Sanitary Inspector George Shorten is inclined to think there are many other cases which have not been reported. The rise of the inspector's suspicion comes through certain people who persist in concealing all evidence of disease.

"Because of the fact that a case of measles does not always result in the serious illness of the patient," said Inspector Shorten, "many people do not call in a physician when the disease develops. If the child has been attending school he is kept out during the course of the disease and is sent to school again when the evidence of the illness has disappeared. Since the disease is of a most contagious nature, many contract it when no quarantine is established."

There are ten cases of measles in Ogden, five of which are confined in the pesthouse. Mrs. Hattie Brohm, who has been under quarantine, was released yesterday. The inspector, however, will not permit the restaurant conducted by her to be opened until it has been thoroughly renovated.

RODIGKEIT FAILED TO PROVIDE FOR HIS FAMILY

An interlocutory decree of divorce was granted to Mrs. Rodigkeit. The court stated that the testimony showed the parties were married at Salt Lake January 26, 1903, and defendant failed to provide the necessities of life. It was also shown defendant abandoned his family in September, 1911. By the decree the plaintiff was given custody of a minor child, $35 a month alimony, costs of the suit and $50 attorney's fees.

A final decree was issued in the divorce case of Robert L. Edwards against Hester Edwards. The interlocutory decree was issued July 8, 1912.

MELODY STIRRED COLE TO WRATH

Objects to "Down by the Old Mill Stream" and Enforces His Will With Hatchet.

Caps Climax by Having Men He Attacked Arrested for Disturbing the Peace.

Declaring that the song "Down by the Old Mill Stream" was not respectable, and that the singing of it constituted the crime of disturbing the peace, "Red" Cole, living at 2315 Lincoln avenue, last night attacked Vincent Scarpet, a tenant, and "Red" John Eddy, inflicting serious wounds with a hatchet. He then had the men arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace.

When Officer Russell and Special Officer Paine brought Eddy and Scarpet to the police station, they both had such badly beaten-up heads that it was necessary to summon Dr. Whalen, the city physician. The men had ugly gashes on their heads from which blood flowed freely. George Eddy and Roy Whetstone accompanied the men to the station, the former being a brother of one of the men arrested.

George Eddy said that he and his brother and Whetstone were at the apartments of Scarpet, which are in the same building, the other half of which is occupied by Cole. Eddy claims Scarpet opened up a keg of sour wine and that they were drinking and singing "Down by the Old Mill Stream." Cole then called Scarpet out to the front door and stated that he would not let a tenant of his sing that song because it was not respectable. Angry words followed and John Eddy went to Scarpet's aid.

Hatchet is Discovered.

"The next thing," said George Eddy, "my brother and Scarpet came into the house with blood flowing from cuts in their heads. Whetstone and I immediately rushed over to Twenty-fifth street and summoned the police. Officers Russell and Paine returned with us to the house. Cole met the officers and said that he wanted Scarpet and my brother arrested for disturbing the peace."

According to the statement of the men arrested, and partially confirmed by the officers, a hatchet was used in the fight. A hatchet covered with blood was found in the front yard. When the ownership of this hatchet is established it will probably throw light upon the case.

When asked as to why Cole was not brought to the station also, the arresting officers said Cole was the complaining witness and agreed to appear in court.

Dr. Whalen took more than an hour to dress the wounds of the two men. He expressed some concern regarding the injuries of Scarpet.

POWER COMPANY SIGNS NUMEROUS CONTRACTS

Following a canvass of Ogden's business district by the Merchants' Light & Power company, Manager P. M. Perry states that a number of contracts have been signed by business men for the power company to furnish light for stores. Lighermen are busy connecting the current from the company's plant with business houses.

After February 1 the company will begin soliciting the residence district of the city for contracts. Aside from the flat rate of 10 cents, the company has a scale in accordance with the amount of power consumed.

OGDEN WOMAN ANSWERS CALL

Mother of Deputy County Clerk Bluth Passes Away After Long Suffering.

Mrs. Augusta W. Bluth, wife of J. M. L. Bluth, and mother of Deputy County Clerk John V. Bluth, died yesterday afternoon at 5:20 o'clock at the family residence, 2836 Barclay avenue. She had been in poor health for two months, and Friday morning suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Mrs. Bluth was born in Skara, Westergotland, Sweden, and was 75 years old. She was the daughter of John Wallin and Maria C. Ytterdahl. In 1861 she was married to J. M. L. Bluth at Stockholm, where they resided until 1877. During that year, with her family, she emigrated to Utah, settling at Grantsville, Tooele county, residing there for two years. The family took up their residence at Logan in 1879, and afterwards moved to Smithfield in Cache county.

Mrs. Bluth had been a resident of Ogden for thirty-three years and a member of the Mormon church since 1876. She was a woman of strong character and generally admired. With the exception of one son, Fred, all members of the family were at her bedside when the final summons came.

Besides her husband, she is survived by John V. and G. J. Bluth, Mrs. Mary W. Shreve and Mrs. Anna T. Belnap, by seventeen grandchildren and one great grand child, Hazel Bausome. One of her grandsons, Earl Belnap, is in Hungary doing military work.

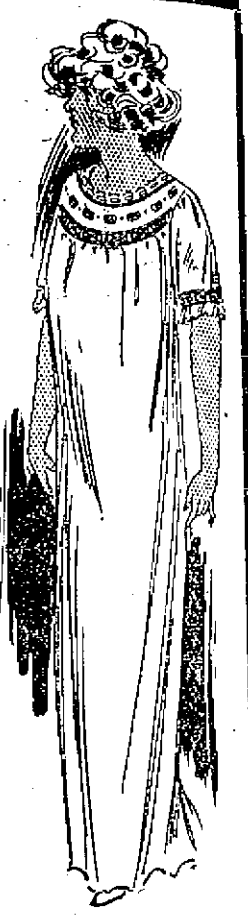

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Fifth ward meeting house. The body may be viewed at the residence tomorrow evening and Tuesday until 12 noon.
