Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Jan. 12.—With four state conventions and two annual exhibits as drawing cards, the arrangements committee which is now making preparations for convention week in Ogden has estimated that not fewer than 2000 out-of-town visitors will be attracted to this city during the week of January 20-25.

The sessions of the various state organizations will open on Monday evening, January 20, and continue up to and including Friday evening, January 24. The Utah products exhibit and poultry show will be open during the week.

Discuss Dry Farming.

Following as it does so closely upon the International Dry Farming congress at Lethbridge, Canada, in October, it is expected that the meeting of the Utah agriculturists will profit by the advertising that was given to the great gathering in Canada. The spirit of the international meeting will enter into the convention of the Utah dry farmers. Subjects considered at the October meeting will be followed up at the convention in this city.

The first session of the dry farmers' convention, the evening of January 22, is of a general nature but the subjects arranged for the following day are of great interest to farmers, bread consumers and the general public. Each subject has been arranged to bring out the most important phases of the questions involved in the production of dry farm wheat and every question will be treated by men who have had special training and much experience in the various lines.

Fruitgrowers' Meeting.

Between 500 and 1000 fruitgrowers of the state will attend the sessions of the horticulturists' convention, according to Joseph Wright, one of the prominent Ogden officials of the association. With the sessions covering two full days, it is an additional evening there will be few subjects of important interest to the fruitgrowers not considered. One of the most important phases of the meeting will be the discussion of questions pertaining to market conditions and possible means of disposing of the enormous fruit crops. The meeting of the horticulturists will be the first convention of the week.

Development League.

The annual meeting of the Utah Development League has a particular interest for Ogden at this time because of the fact that Frank M. Driggs, superintendent of the Utah School for the Deaf and

No half-hearted "stab" at anything is likely to succeed. Having the "nerve" to do a thing is based on sound physiology. "Nerve" includes clear, intelligent, concentrated thinking, plus courage.

But—brain and nerves MUST be properly fed—nourished—or the "courage to win" is likely to fail.

HOWELL SAYS LAWS SHOULD BE AMENDED

District Judge Discusses Operators of Labor-Saving Machinery.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Jan. 12.—How modern labor-saving machinery has made necessary modern laws for protecting the workman and why the owner of the machine should be compelled to look after the welfare of the operator in case of injury as carefully as he would preserve the efficiency of the machine, were points discussed by Judge J. A. Howell of the Second district court, in an address before the members of the Sunday Night club at the Ogden Hotel last evening. The subject of his address was "The Workman's Compensation and Protection Laws."

Judge Howell declared that it was one of the duties of the next Utah legislature to adopt adequate laws along this line and thus keep pace with sister states. He said that the old common law respecting the responsibility of employers had outgrown its usefulness. In this day of progress, when paid labor has been largely displaced by labor-saving machinery, something more adequate for the protection of the workman is needed, according to the speaker. With the increase of danger to the workman, new laws are needed. The judge favors legislation which would make the life of the health of the machine operator just as important as the life of the machine itself.

The speaker illustrated the necessity of more efficient laws applying to industry by producing statistics showing the number of workmen who are killed and maimed in the industrial work of the United States.

All coal-dealers will advise

Don't blame the coal-dealer. He wants to be your friend—wants you to get heat satisfaction from the coal you buy. In supplying many people, he knows it is not the amount of coal you burn that counts—it is the volume of heat you get out of each pound, as well as how to evenly distribute that heat. Give him opportunity to tell you (without offense—because of your long sticking to old-fashioned heating) that the only way to get the greatest heating comfort out of the least fuel is through use of and ashes through the living-rooms, who do not run the risk of breathing coal-gases and soot, nor danger of conflagrations? All these advantages and many more are secured and insured to anyone who puts in an outfit of IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators. The coal-dealer will sell you enough less coal to soon equal the cost of the outfit—but he had rather have steady, satisfied customers—just as you would if you were in the coal business.

This Company has become the greatest heating authority in America, Europe and Australia. We publish free books on best rules for running heating boilers, on heat regulation, on correction of chimney faults, and upon heating data of the most up-to-date character. Our publications are used as text-books in many Universities and Colleges. You may be absolutely sure, therefore, that in IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators we offer both heating satisfaction and the greatest measure of heating value. May we serve you now? Send for our free book, "Ideal Heating"—full of valuable heating facts you ought to know.

We also supply the ARCO WAND Vacuum Cleaner, which has iron suction pipes running to various floors of houses, flats, schools, churches, hotels, hospitals, banks, theaters, etc. A turn of an electric button in any room starts the machine in basement, and with the magical ARCO WAND and a light-weight dandy hose ALL the dirt, dust, cobwebs, lint, threads, motes, insect eggs, etc., are drawn up lightning rapidly down their own piping into the big, sealed dust-bucket in cellar. Costs little monthly for electricity to run. No dragging around a clumsy, inefficient portable vacuum cleaner—instead, you have a correct, enduring outfit that is part of the building—like radiator heating. Ask for catalog.
